

SingPost HQ tagged Green

As a corporate citizen of the world, SingPost will continue to play our part to make the world and Singapore a more liveable place. Our recent green initiative was to make our flagship building, Singapore Post Centre, more environment-friendly by replacing our chiller units and fine tuning the overall chiller plant system, thus reducing the carbon dioxide emission by 2,694 tonnes per year.

The green initiative is win-win for SingPost as well as we stand to reap savings of more than $1 million a year for the Group.

This effort supplements SingPost's on-going environment-friendly practices involving energy saving and paper recycling. There is collective support from everyone to contribute towards energy saving programmes as we recognise the long-term and tangible benefits to both the company and the environment that we serve and operate in.
